

Media Release- Qantas Fare Increases from 9 May

Qantas has announced fare increases across the Domestic and International network.

These fare increases are in response to souring jet fuel prices which have been consistently over US $130 a barrel in recent weeks.

It is expected that fuel prices will remain volatile for the foreseeable future and on that basis Qantas believes an adjustment to base fares is the most appropriate action to take at this time.

Fuel surcharge levels will remain in place, with fare increases implemented separately.

The new fare levels will apply to point of sale Australia for bookings ticketed after midnight 9 May 2008. The fare increases will apply to all fares classes as follows;

- * Domestic fares will increase by approximately 3.5%; and
- * International Economy, Business and First class fares will increase by approximately 3%

International Premium Economy fares will remain unchanged and will not be affected by this increase.

The fare increases apply to all published and retail net fares for all Qantas and QantasLink routes.

Selected Business and First class fares to Singapore, UK/Europe and Economy, Business and First class fares to Africa were increased earlier in April. No further increases will apply to these fares.

Any booking made, but not ticketed, prior to midnight 9 May 2008 (AEST) will be affected by the fare increase as the ticket is deemed to be sold after the effective date. The full Media Release and other information regarding travel updates is available on FSU's website by clicking on Travel.
